Message

I want to congratulate the General Economics Division (GED) of Bangladesh Planning Commission for successful completion of analysing the data availability and status of data generation in Bangladesh regarding the indicators to measure achievement of Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). I am immensely pleased to learn that GED is going to publish the "Data Gap Analysis for Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs): Bangladesh Perspective".

The world has witnessed the adoption of a new global agenda, the Agenda 2030 for Sustainable Development which encompasses 17 universal and transformative Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). The goals are comprised of 169 targets and the attainment of these targets will be measured through a set of 230 indicators, as suggested by the United Nations.

We should remember that Bangladesh was one of the forerunners in achieving Millennium Development Goals (MDGs), which indicates that Bangladesh is comfortably poised to meet the SDGs as well. As the goals, targets and indicators of the SDGs are well taken care of in our formulation process of the 7th Five Year Plan and other policy documents of Bangladesh, we can say that Bangladesh is an 'early starter' in the implementation process of the SDGs.

Furthermore, GED of Planning Commission has already formulated and published the mapping of the Ministries/Divisions by each of the 169 targets and 230 indicators of SDGs to identify responsible Ministries/Divisions for preparing action plans in achieving the SDGs successfully.

Government must be able to have benchmark data and see year on year progress to monitor the impact of its plans and policies for achieving the SDGs. Continuous monitoring of progress can help tracking the progress towards the goals through which implementation actions can be evaluated and refined.

"Data Gap Analysis for Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs): Bangladesh Perspective" will be the base for tracking the SDGs achievement in Bangladesh. It will also play a pivotal role in formulating a Monitoring and Evaluation Framework for SDGs. The data generating agencies, especially Bangladesh Bureau of Statistics (BBS), our national statistical organization, will be able to identify their shortfalls in data creation and take required action to generate data regarding the SDG indicators by modifying their existing surveys, censuses etc. It provides suggestions for creating MIS within different agencies to generate periodic administrative data also. Our efforts to implement the sustainable development agenda will necessitate comprehending the "data revolution" as suggested by the Secretary General of UN.

GED of Planning Commission has a long history of monitoring and reporting the achievements of MDGs with preparation and publication of dozens reports related to MDGs. Furthermore, GED has also continuing a process of evaluating the Five Year Plans. In this continuity, the coordination committee to supervise and monitor the implementation process of Agenda 2030, which has been established by Hon'ble Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina at her office, is receiving the secretarial support from GED.

I like to thank the GED officials for their efforts in preparing this analytical report which will be a primary document for measuring the achievement of SDGs through future monitoring reports. I would also like to offer thanks to various Ministries/Divisions/Agencies for providing support to find out the gaps in our data generation to track SDGs. I also admire Prime Minister's Office, especially to the Principal Coordinator for SDG Affairs, Mr. Md. Abul Kalam Azad for patronizing the publication of this report.

I hope GED, in collaboration with BBS and other agencies that will be generating data in line with the SDG Indicators will be able to utilize this analytical report on data gaps in Bangladesh for identifying their respective future course of actions to comply with the global data revolution for tracking SDGs achievements in Bangladesh.

Message

I am immensely pleased to be informed that the General Economics Division (GED) of Bangladesh Planning Commission has prepared the "Data Gap Analysis for Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs): Bangladesh Perspective" as the SDGs Focal Point to support the coordination of the implementation of SDGs at policy level in Bangladesh.

We know that data are the lifeblood of performance evaluation and accountability. Without high-quality data providing the right information on the right things at the right time, designing, monitoring and evaluating effective policies becomes almost impossible.

Furthermore, our SDG implementation strategies, action plan and allocation of resources will follow the monitoring reports for SDGs accordingly as a report card to measure progress towards achieving targets and to ensure the accountability of government and other stakeholders for achieving the SDGs.

I take this opportunity to thank the GED officials for their initiative and efforts in preparing and finalization of this report. I also like to offer thanks to various Ministries/Divisions/Agencies for providing their consensus and support to finalize the "Data Gap Analysis for Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs): Bangladesh Perspective".

The ultimate mission of all of us is to take the nation, primarily, at the threshold of an upper middle income country (UMIC) by 2030. Now, we have to move on with the new world development agenda to be implemented in next fifteen years with proper monitoring tool.

Hence, we should focus on generating appropriate and segregated data against the SDG indicators to track the implementation of the global agenda of SDGs which will keep us on right track to achieve the SDGs in time.

Message

I am happy to know that the General Economics Division (GED) of Bangladesh Planning Commission as the secretariat of the “SDGs Implementation and Monitoring Committee” is going to publish the “Data Gap Analysis for Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs): Bangladesh Perspective”.

The UN suggested 230 SDGs Indicators will be the backbone of monitoring the 17 Goals and 169 targets at local, national, regional and global levels. The breadth of the Sustainable Development Agenda 2030 suggests for “data revolution”, coined by High Level Political Forum, to track the attainments of SDGs. The data revolution for sustainable development will require new data with traditional data to produce high-quality information that is more detailed, timely and relevant for purposes and users, especially to foster and monitor sustainable development.

The analysis, done by General Economics Division of Planning Commission, is the very first report to evaluate Bangladesh’s status in data arena with regards to SDGs. This data gap analysis will serve as a primary management tool for the data generating agencies of Government to help us preparing the Monitoring and Evaluation (M&E) Framework for tracking SDGs attainment in Bangladesh.

I express my sincere gratitude to General Economics Division (GED) of Planning Commission for discharging their duty very prudently as the secretariat of “SDGs Implementation and Monitoring Committee”.

The officials of General Economics Division (GED) and Prime Minister’s Office also deserve appreciations for their effort to finalize this report. I also thank my colleagues from different Ministries/Divisions and data generating agencies for providing their feedback and intellectual inputs to make the report comprehensive.

Lastly, I humbly request the Ministries/Divisions to generate the required data/administrative data and provide to GED as they can use those while preparing aggregate monitoring and progress reports.

“Data Gap Analysis for Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs): Bangladesh Perspective” is the first analytical document on the data availability in Bangladesh to monitor and assess the attainment of the targets of Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Data gap analysis has been a very meticulous task the GED has completed.

This document has successfully been completed the Data Gap Analysis for each of the 230 Indicators, suggested for SDG monitoring. General Economics Division (GED) of Planning Commission as the SDG Focal Point and secretariat to the “SDGs Implementation and Monitoring Committee” of Prime Minister’s Office, has prepared methodically this analytical document.

The Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) are framed in a globally accepted Framework that focuses on 17 goals with 169 associated targets and 230 indicators. The world has collectively endorsed the goals, targets, and indicators. The SDGs form the bedrock of a new development agenda that can set the world on a new course of action to end poverty, transform lives and protect the planet.

In the implementation of this new agenda, statistics will play a key role to monitor progress and ensure that we deliver lasting and meaningful results. While data availability was not necessarily one of the criteria for selecting indicators, the lack of publicly available data exposes how much work needs to be done to fully implement and monitor the SDGs. The importance of statistics in achieving the SDGs is therefore critical at the national level as data and careful analysis are needed for policy decisions and planning as well as to allow accountability of the implementers.

Previously, GED has done the Mapping of Ministries/Divisions by SDGs targets (who to do what in terms of targets) which includes directly linked Ministries/Divisions containing Prime Minister’s Office and Cabinet Division also. The mapping exercise has created the opportunity to look at the data scenario of Bangladesh through the lenses of the SDGs indicators.

The data gap analysis has gone through rigorous consultation for each of the indicators to find out which ministry/division/agency is going to provide data for the SDG indicators. Additionally, this analysis found out the status of data availability for each indicator, of which, two indicators are not relevant in the perspective of Bangladesh.

GED has consulted with most of the data generating relevant Ministries/Divisions and agencies, including Bangladesh Bureau of Statistics (BBS) of Statistics and Informatics Division (SID), the national statistics organization to analyse the situation of Data Gap for measuring SDGs achievement in Bangladesh.

Data Gap Analysis primarily found that data on 70 indicators only are available in existing data generating system of Bangladesh and 108 can be generated by modifying existing census and survey (for disaggregation). Additional 63 indicators will require new survey or census to generate information for measuring the performance in achieving targets of SDGs (Nine indicators are to be used for more than one target). Financing has to be made available for this.

The 230 SDG indicators will require an unprecedented amount of data to be produced and analysed. For several indicators (70 indicators), the data required are already produced by national statistical systems. This is essentially the case for the legacy indicators that were also part of the MDG framework, among others, i.e. national accounts and other administrative data.

But, given the extensiveness of the 2030 Agenda, there are many other indicators for which data are not yet available (63 indicators) in Bangladesh. In some cases, which are partially available (108 indicators), work on the statistical standards and methodologies need to be undertaken before we can have the necessary data. The statistical community, including Bangladesh Bureau of Statistics (BBS), need to be aware of the intense work ahead for 'data mining' and generation.

Data generation for the set of indicators and their useful analysis remains a formidable task. Most importantly, there is a clear lack of institutions and institutional coordination. It is necessary to ensure required data is generated in a timely and reliable fashion. Data collection methodology, the quality of data, should be at international standard and the data is examined adequately to shed insights on the progress.

The principle strategy of the GoB will be to undertake major institutional reforms and implement a comprehensive set of activities to enhance the capacity of Ministries/Divisions to produce administrative data. Including BBS, the national statistics agency, and several major agencies i.e. DoE, BFD, BB, DOF, DGHS, NIPORT, DDM, BP, BANBEIS, etc., will be requiring especial support for dealing with new types of data collection/mining in segregated form with various dimensions say by age, sex, regional locations, etc.

The 2030 Agenda is quite ambitious and transformational. To make sure that no one will be left behind, indicators should cover the specific groups of population and other disaggregation elements specified in the targets. The implementation of this data disaggregation principle will be critical and represents another important challenge for national statistical offices.

At the national level, the Bangladesh Bureau of Statistics (BBS) is the primary data institution in Bangladesh. The role of BBS has developed over the last few decades and gathered substantial experience and competence in providing a range of data at a national, district, and sectoral basis. Strengthening of the BBS is probably the top most priority for generating SDGs related data. Government has to offer greater effort to generate high quality data in a timely fashion by strengthening the capacity and scope of BBS. Steps for strengthening BBS and other administrative agencies have to be initiated on priority basis as the time is passing by rapidly (one year of SDGs timeline has already gone).

The report has suggested that BBS will have to undertake small scale surveys for enabling regular and frequent monitoring and evaluation exercise. The frequency of generating data should be increased. Given financial as well as capacity constraint, it is difficult to conduct annual surveys in a large scale. The alternative, therefore, is to conduct interim surveys at much smaller scale both in terms of coverage of the sample as well as numbers of areas covered and questions asked. In case of poverty related data, age, employment status etc. segregation is not available now with existing HIES system, hence, next HIES will require modification.

Furthermore, welfare monitoring survey 2017-18 should incorporate the issues of SDG 1: No Poverty and SDG 2: Zero Hunger, to measure the indicators, including Multi-dimensional poverty aspects. Rural/urban, bottom/top wealth quintile and others such as disability status, indigenous peoples and gender segregated parity indices will be required to calculate as data become available for education sector regarding the SDG 4: Quality Education.

Several proxy indicators are also required for measuring the achievement of the targets of the different goals, i.e. SDG 12: Responsible Consumption and Production, especially which are related to nature and environment. We can think of proxy indicators against the SDG indicators for global comparison, especially for SDG 13: Climate Action. BBS, SID will have to report on the indicators available to measure in Bangladesh from various sources in time.

However, new survey will be required regarding security and human rights. National Integrity Strategy based survey may be done by BBS regarding relevant SDG indicators from SD Goal 16: Peace, Justice and Strong Institutions along with establishment of MIS for similar indicators of SDGs. In order to track the SDG targets (especially means of implementation) and the targets of SD Goal 17: Partnerships for the Goals will necessitate especial emphasis to segregate the ODA and other external resource flows in accordance with the SDG targets/indicators.

Economic Relations Division (ERD) can take necessary actions in this regard and may also check for private sector data sources if not reported to ERD. Along with the Bangladesh part ERD can also collect Global data from UN Sources for reporting. GED should also enhance its capacity in terms of qualified officials to track SDG attainment and reporting on implementation Agenda 2030.

Implementation of Agenda 2030 will be tracked by preparing a Monitoring and Evaluation (M&E) Framework for SDG attainment in Bangladesh. This "Data Gap Analysis for Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs): Bangladesh Perspective" will be followed by a full-fledged M&E Framework for SDGs.

At the end, I on behalf of team GED thank our Hon'ble Planning Minister Mr. A. H. M. Mustafa Kamal, FCA, MP and the Hon'ble State Minister Mr. M. A. Mannan, Ministry of Finance and Ministry of Planning, for their guidance, encouragement and support in conduction of the Data Gap Analysis for SDGs indicators and bringing out this study in published form.

Thanks are also due to the Prime Minister's Office for supporting GED efforts in the preparation of "Data Gap Analysis for Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs): Bangladesh Perspective".

(Shamsul Alam)

The Process and Acknowledgements

A format for Data Gap Analysis was primarily developed at the Poverty Analysis and Monitoring (PA&M) Wing of General Economics Division (GED) following the format of Mapping of Ministries/Divisions by Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) targets and indicators.

A preliminary in-house analysis was done at GED for all the 230 indicators for measuring performance of SDGs targets attainment by PA&M Wing led by Mr. Mohd. Monirul Islam, Deputy Chief, GED; other members of the team were the desk officials of the wing, Mr Md. Mahbulul Alam Siddiquee, Senior Assistant Chief; Ms Kohinoor Akter, Assistant Chief; Syed Ali Bin Hassan, Assistant Chief; Mr. Shimul Sen, Assistant Chief and Ms Josefa Yesmin, Assistant Chief.

Later on, all relevant Ministries/Divisions associated with the implementation of Sustainable Development Agenda 2030 and the possible data generating Government agencies were provided with the preliminary analysis.

In May 2016 the draft report was placed for rigorous consultation with participation from the Lead and/or Co-Lead Ministry/Division and the possible data generating authorities, especially national statistics organization, Bangladesh Bureau of Statistics (BBS) and Statistics and Informatics Division (SID) of Ministry of Planning.

The participants were from different agencies, i.e. DoE, BFD, BB, DOF, DGHS, NIPORT, DDM, BP, BANBEIS etc. Each and every official from all the wings of GED has facilitated the workshop to identify the data availability status of the indicators and the possible data providing agencies. The “Data Gap Analysis for Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs): Bangladesh Perspective” was thoroughly reviewed and edited as per outcome of the consultation workshop.

This revised report was shared with the relevant Senior Secretaries/Secretaries of Lead/Co-Lead Ministries/Divisions and the agency heads of the data providing agencies. Later on all the Ministries/Divisions were shared again for the second time to get feedback on the Data Gap Analysis draft report.

The suggested and agreed revisions/modifications received at GED were taken into account and revisit the report accordingly to produce before the Principal Coordinator for SDGs Affairs and the “SDGs Implementation and Monitoring Committee” of Prime Minister’s Office for reviewing.

The GED acknowledges the contribution of all the SDGs focal point officials of the relevant Ministries/ Divisions and the participants of the consultations for their assistance in preparing the Data Gap Analysis report.

Mr. Naquib bin Mahbub, Chief, GED and Dr Mustafizur Rahman, Joint Chief, GED deserves special thanks for their extensive contribution to support the team led by Mr. Mohd. Monirul Islam, Deputy Chief, GED.

Mr. Fakrul Ahsan, Project Manager and other specialists of the Support to Sustainable and Inclusive Planning (SSIP) Project, GED also deserve special thanks for their efforts in arranging consultation workshop to assist preparing and printing the document.

Heartly thanks to Member (Senior Secretary) Dr. Shamsul Alam for editing the manuscript and for his passion, inspiration and guidance in bringing out this important SDGs publication.

SDGs Data Gap Analysis: An Anatomy of Data Availability by Indicators

It is well recognized that the Sustainable Development Goals are all inter-connected, in a system of growth. We cannot aim to achieve just one Goal; rather we have to achieve them all, which is called the characteristics of 'integration by synergy'. However, the interconnection and interrelationships of goals and targets are not so simple.

Some goals and targets interact with others more strongly than others. Some targets reinforce each other (synergies). Others may conflict with one another (trade-offs). Some may be necessary for others to be achieved (enablers).

It is well acknowledged that Government plans and policies need to address the complex and dynamic interactions into account for implementation of SDGs.

The Hon'ble Prime Minister of Bangladesh had a unique opportunity to be present in both the Millennium Summit held in 2000 and SDG Summit held in 2015 where the Millennium Declaration and SDGs were adopted respectively in the United Nations.

The success of implementation of many of the MDGs targets and her dynamic leadership that was instrumental for the very feat was globally acclaimed and she received so many accolades. This in turn has grown Championship and ownership in her for SDGs as well.

A 16-member "SDGs Implementation and Monitoring Committee" has been formed with Senior Secretary/Secretary of the most relevant Ministries/Divisions being the members and Principal Secretary to the Hon'ble Prime Minister has been the convenor.

The Principal Coordinator for SDGs Affairs, a new high level post, has been created in the Prime Minister's Office (PMO) to spearhead the process and forge coordination.

The first task of the "SDGs Implementation and Monitoring Committee" was to review the SDGs Mapping. It reflects concerted well thought-out efforts by the government following a whole society approach (involving NGOs, civil society and Development Partners) in delineating government responsibilities by the Ministries/Divisions to each of the targets of the Sustainable Development Goals.

The mapping (who will do what in terms of targets) has given responsibility to 40 Ministries/Divisions as Lead along with 34 Ministries/Divisions as Co-lead, and 61 Ministries/Divisions/Independent Institutions have been earmarked as associate in the implementation of 169 targets of 17 SDGs.

The mapping also highlighted actions to be taken by leads and co-leads to achieve the SDGs targets during 7th FYP. It has also captured existing policies/strategies/regulations to be instrumental for the implementation of different targets.

Table-2 charts top 25 Ministries/Divisions of the Government of Bangladesh according to their responsibility of SDG indicators related activities. Since up to FY 2020, the ongoing 7th FYP will be the key instrument to implement different actions related to Agenda 2030, the SDGs mapping has highlighted the actions to be taken by Ministries/Divisions.

The Figure 2 represents the summary of availability of data to monitor SDGs in the context of Bangladesh. The exercise of SDGs Data Gap Analysis was done with the assistance of all data generating agencies including the National Statistical Organization (NSO) of Bangladesh viz. Bangladesh Bureau of Statistics. The GED study reveals that 70 indicators related data are readily available in the existing system; 63 indicators related data is not available presently; and 108 data is partially available. It can be mentioned that no compulsion has been imposed by the UN Statistical Commission regarding number of indicators a particular country should adopt. The decision of number of indicators to be used by a country are to be finalized by respective country. But obviously performance evaluations should be adequately representative of overall attainment.

It is clear from Figure 3 and Figure 4 that data availability will be a daunting challenge as merely 29% data is readily available in the existing system, and 26% data is not at all available. However, 45% data is partially available meaning that some modification, addition and analysis will be required in the existing census or survey for getting the required result. The challenge for SDG 12 is high as 69% data of this goal related indicators is not available at this moment in our country. SDG 14 will be the next challenging as 60% data related to this goal is also not available. After that, SDG 13, including all climate and environment related goals will be the challenging goals as around 57% data is not available. Moreover, 45% data related to SDG 6, 39% data related to SDG 16, 36% data related to SDG 15 and 33% data related to SDG 11 are not available in the existing data generating system of Bangladesh. With respect to availability of data SDG 2, SDG 1, SDG 7, SDG 9, SDG 5 and SDG 17 are in a better position as maximum data related to these goals are either readily available or partially available.

Table 3: The summary of the data availability status of each of the indicators of SDGs

Table 3 is the summarized version of the data gap analysis for each of the indicators from all the 17 Goals. This table supplements the figure 3 and figure 4 which were analysed by each SD Goals. This table enlisted all the indicators which are classified as Readily Available, Partially Available and Not Available in terms of data availability in the perspective of Bangladesh by each SD Goal. It can be excerpt from the table that which indicators can be supported with data from the existing data generating system of the country. This table shows the specific indicators by their serial number as approved by the 47th session of United Nations Statistical Commission.

Figure 5: Ministries/Divisions responsible for providing SDGs related data for monitoring

Figure 5 highlights the Ministries/Divisions/Institutions who will be responsible for providing data for SDGs Indicators. It is evident that Statistics and Informatics Division will play a key role in providing/generating data to monitor SDGs implementation (93). SID will be followed by the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare (52), Ministry of Environment and Forests (46), Economic Relations Division (26), Finance Division (20), Local Government Division (16), Ministry of Disaster Management and Relief (12), Bank and Financial Institutions Division (10), Ministry of Home Affairs (11), Ministry of Agriculture (11), Ministry of Commerce (9), Ministry of Social Welfare (10), Ministry of Education (9), Ministry of Foreign Affairs (7) and General Economics Division (6).

Figure 6: Top 30 Departments/Agencies responsible for providing SDGs related data for monitoring

Figure 6 depicts the functional level responsibility of 30 Departments/Agencies under different Ministries/Divisions who will be responsible for timely producing relevant data to monitor the implementation status of SDGs.

It is evident from Figure 6 that Bangladesh Bureau of Statistics (BBS), the National Statistical Organization of Bangladesh, under the Statistics and Informatics Division (SID) will be responsible for producing data related to 89 indicators of SDGs. National Institute of Population Research and Training (NIPORT) under the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare will be responsible for 24 indicators.

Moreover, Directorate General of Health Services (DGHS) under the same ministry will be responsible for 22 indicators. Department of Environment (DoE) under the Ministry of Environment and Forests will be responsible for 21 indicators and Bangladesh Forest Department under the same Ministry will be responsible for 14 indicators.

Bangladesh Bank, the Central Bank of Bangladesh, will be responsible for providing 8 indicators related data. Department of Social Services under the Ministry of Social Welfare will be responsible for generating 7 indicators related data. Both Department of Disaster Management (DDM) under the Ministry of Disaster Management & Relief and Bangladesh Police will be responsible for providing 7 indicators related data.

Department of Fisheries under the Ministry of Fisheries and Livestock will be responsible for generating data related to 6 indicators of SDGs.

As the National Statistical Organization, BBS will take the core responsibility for producing official national statistics. It will not only generate 89 data related to SDGs targets but also spearhead the process of coordination with other data producers of the Government to generate the relevant data timely.

The commitment to 'leave no one behind' has been a key feature of the SDGs and disaggregated level data is the only means to identify who is being left out. It is believed that producing data at disaggregated levels will be challenging but initially efforts have to be given to generate high-quality, timely and reliable data disaggregated primarily by gender, age, income and geographic location.

As administrative data will be used in monitoring the implementation of SDGs, the NSO has to establish a framework with the relevant Ministries/Divisions about the availability, authenticity and reliability of administrative data.

Globally enhancing capacity for data generation through financing, technology, logistics and human capital has been identified as challenge and these have to be resolved through a coordinated manner to get better outcomes. Following the Statistics Act 2013, if any non-government entity wants to generate data in areas related to SDGs, BBS will encourage them.

Lastly, there is no readily available data for indicator measuring SDG 12. And this goal also has least relevance at this stage of development trajectory of Bangladesh.
